Migration

Animated film, approx. 80 minutes, released without age limit

The Mallard duck family sets off from the pond at home and heads south to Jamaica via New York City. But their well-laid plans go awry and the Mallards are suddenly plunged into the big, chaotic adventure called life. In the process, they lose a few feathers, make new friends and have unforgettable experiences. From the creators of “Despicable me” comes this feather-light comedy about overcoming fears and opening up to the world and its possibilities - with Illumination's unmistakable humor, authentic heart and unforgettable characters!

Lady and the Tramp

Animated film, approx. 76 minutes, released without age limit

The romantic tale of a sheltered uptown Cocker Spaniel dog and a streetwise downtown Mutt. Lady is a pampered Cocker Spaniel who lives in the ritzy part of town. Everything is great until Jim Dear and Darling, Lady's owners have a baby. Then Aunt Sarah and her two scheming Siamese cats come to stay. Lady is thought to be vicious and is muzzled and put outside. Tramp comes to her rescue. Lady runs away with him only to be caught by the dogcatcher.

Inside out 2

Animated film, approx. 91 minutes, released without age limit

Riley lives through the turbulent turmoil of puberty while her emotions struggle for control in her head. Doubt successfully takes command and simply throws joy and the other primal emotions out of the control center. This is not without consequences, especially as teenager Riley has some important decisions to make and also has to worry about making the ice hockey team.

Despicable me 4

Animated film, approx. 90 minutes, released from 6 years onwards

From supervillain to suburban family man? It can happen when your name is Gru, you meet your arch-enemy at the school reunion, things escalate and you have to go into hiding. But when baby Gru Junior is kidnapped, that's it for peace and quiet. Gru and his family set off on a crazy rescue mission. Along for the ride are the Minions, even more chaotic this time, because a super serum has turned five of them into Mega Minions with special abilities!

I - Simply Incurable 4 has everything you'd expect from an Illumination film, from non-stop action to subversive humor.

We wish you good and exciting entertainment!
